AREAS OF EXPERTISE

Studies, Analysis and Evaluations: Avanco was founded on International Programs Security and has been supporting this community since 1982. Avanco provides instruction, training, and support on how to secure and protect US technologies when working in an international environment. Avanco also provides a complete range of support associated with studies, analysis and evaluation services. We analyze and evaluate current functional or best of breed benchmarks for assimilation of emerging technologies into the ACC and AFDW information environment. Avanco's services include development and implementation of performance measures, independent verification and validation (IV&V) of projects, and economic analysis including return on investment, cost benefit analysis, BPR, and benchmark studies.

Management and Professional Services: At Avanco, we pride ourselves on our superior project management skills and we utilize CMMI and PMBOK principles to organize projects and mitigate risks for our clients. We are experts at balancing the proper amount of planning and progress reporting with a persistent focus on the daily accomplishment of project activities in order to deliver results at an extraordinary pace. Our operational experts help government and companies define and implement the processes, systems, and organizational requirements required to achieve mission success.

Engineering and Technology: The Avanco business philosophy focuses on the utilization of efficient, economical and value-added web-based technologies in the development and delivery of Business Intelligence Portals, Data Warehousing Systems, Geographic Information Systems, Internet Software Applications, Oracle Data Base Administration and Legacy System Transformations.
